Last Saturday was Linda's fourteenth birthday. She asked Bob to come to her birthday party at 5:00 p.m. But Bob didn't know where she lived. So Linda told him how long and how to get there.

Bob left his home at 4:00 p.m., and got to the bus stop at 4:10 p.m. He took a No.70 bus and after half an hour, he was on Center Street. He turned left at the first turning. Then he turned left again at the crossing, walked five minutes and turned right at the second turning. Then he got lost. Bob was worried, because it's already 4:50 p.m. and he would be late for the party! He didn't have a map so he had to call Linda.

"Linda, I'm sorry but I'm lost outside Brown Supermarket," he said.

"Oh, that's not far from my home," Linda said, "You need to walk along No. 28 Street. Then stop when you see a hospital. Are you with me?"

"Yeah," Bob answered, "I'm following you."

"OK. Turn right and you can see a big tree. That's my home, on your left hand, next to the bank," said Linda.

Bob followed Linda's direction, and walked for 15 more minutes. Finally, he found Linda's home but he was late for the party. Bob felt sorry about it.
