One day, I was so angry with my parents that I left home, saying I would never return. I was 36 because my parents refused to buy me a bike. But in my anger, I didn't even 37 that I had taken both my father's shoes and his wallet. As I made my way to the bus station, I felt some pain in my 38. I noticed that the shoe had a hole in it. There were no buses around. Not knowing what to do, I looked in my dad's 39. To my surprise, there wasn't much money inside. I also found a note from his boss. It asked him to wear nicer-looking shoes to the 40. I remembered my mother asking him to 41 a pair of new shoes, but he said that his current (现在的) pair of shoes should last another six months 42.

I started to walk home. I then realized that when I had left, my dad's motorbike was not there. I started feeling 43 in my legs and wanted to cry. I ran home as fast as I could. When I got home, my dad was there 44 me. I couldn't help but cry. I hugged him tightly (紧紧地) and said, "I'm sorry, Dad. I don't need a bike."

That's when I realized just how much pain and hardship (苦难) our parents 45 sometimes, and how great their love for us is. Everyone should do a better job of remembering this from time to time.

Now China has five national parks. They protect nearly 30% of the important wild species (野生动物种) in China. Let's take a look at three of them.

Giant Panda National Park

Location (地址): Sichuan, Shanxi and Gansu. More than 80% of China's wild giant pandas live there! The park builds many small houses for pandas in these three provinces. Besides pandas, leopards (金钱豹) and monkeys also live in the park. Pandas and their "neighbors" can live and play together.

National Park of Hainan Tropical (热带的) Rainforest

Location: Hainan. As big as 4,400 square kilometers, it has a very large tropical forest. The forest covers nearly 96% of the park. More than 400 kinds of endemic (特有的) plants are growing in the park. There are 35 Hainan gibbons (长臂猿) in the park. They are the only surviving (幸存的) members of the species in the world. What's more, Hainan's three highest mountains are also in the park.

Sanjiangyuan National Park

Location: Qinghai. It is the largest national park in China. It is about 14 times the area of Yellowstone National Park in the United States. I always loved looking at this hidden lane (小路) as I drove my children to school. The lane is easily overlooked (忽视) because it's between a pizza restaurant and a house. If you don't take the time to look to the left at the stop sign, you'll miss it.

As you can see, the tree-lined lane is pretty in every season. I have pictures of the four seasons hanging in my home and at my workplace. Many people have asked me about them. When I tell them where I took the pictures, they are always surprised. Most of them probably never slow down from their busy lives to notice the scenery so close to their home.

Our family moved to Gibsonia, Pennsylvania more than 25 years ago, and we love living there. Gibsonia has beautiful hills and many, many huge old oak trees.

I adore the natural beauty of the countryside throughout the year, from the heavy snows of winter to the bright new greens of spring, and I hope to always live where the seasons change.

Now my children have grown up and left home. As I get older, I value the peace and beauty of the countryside even more. This collection of photos of my favorite country lane shows that if you take the time to look around, you will always discover something wonderful, no matter where you are.

51. What do we know about the lane?

- A. It's small but busy.                      B. It's behind a house.

D. encourage people to discover the beauty around

C

The solar calendar divides the year into 24 solar terms (节气). Start of Spring (立春), the first solar term of the year, usually falls between Feb. 3 and Feb. 5 every year. This year, it fell on the fourth day of February.

After Start of Spring, everything turns green and is full of energy. People clearly see that the daytime is becoming longer and the weather is becoming warmer.

Spring is the best season for kite-flying. It has a history of more than 2,000 years. It can help build people's health and prevent diseases.

In China, it is said that the egg can be set upright on the day of Start of Spring. It is believed that if someone can make the egg stand on the day of Start of Spring, he will have good luck in the future.

In many parts of China, people follow the custom (习俗) of "biting the spring" on the day of Start of Spring. They eat spring pancakes, spring rolls (春卷), or a few mouthfuls of carrots.

The custom of posting calligraphy (书法) and paintings on people's doors in spring first appeared during the Tang Dynasty. People would do so to welcome spring and good luck on the day of Start of Spring.

People in China began holding a special ceremony on the day of Start of Spring about 3,000 years ago. By the Qing Dynasty, greeting spring had become an important folk activity. In Beijing, government officials welcomed spring in the wild field near Dongzhimen (the east gate of Beijing).

On June 5th, 2022, China successfully sent Shenzhou-14, with three taikonauts (中国宇航员) to its space station, where they will live and work for about six months. 66 And what do they do there?

In fact, taikonauts living in space have the same hygiene (卫生) needs as people do on Earth. The three taikonauts even have their own living room! 67 However, because of micro-gravity (微重力), they take care of themselves in different ways. For example, they use special equipment (装备) to wash their hair or position (固定) themselves when they use the toilet.

Taikonauts eat three meals a day: breakfast, lunch and dinner. 68 Yes, of course! Besides these, the three taikonauts have lots of work to do every day like checking the machines, doing some science and technology research and so on.

69 At the same time, the control center on Earth sends messages to them through voice or videos to help them successfully work.

70 A popular way of relaxation is looking out of the window. And they can also enjoy themselves by doing exercise, watching movies, reading books, playing cards and talking with their families in their free time.

- A. When they wake up, they wash their hair, brush their teeth and go to the bathroom as well.
B. Living in space is not just all work and no play.
C. What is their life really like in space?
D. They will also work outside the space station during the six months.
