Mark is an 11-year-old boy. He's very smart. He started to make bow (蝴蝶形) ties two years ago. Now he sells them both in stores and online. Why did Mark decide to make and sell bow ties? Here's a story of him.

One day, when Mark went shopping for bow ties, he found most of them were only in black and red. He decided to design bow ties on his own. Then he learned how to make them from his mother. His first bow tie didn't look nice at all. "It's like something that a clown (小丑) would wear," he said. However, he didn't give up and kept on practicing. He used materials in different colors. He even drew pictures on the bow ties. "I want to make them look special," he said.

After a few months, Mark succeeded. His teachers and friends liked his bow ties very much. Then the boy started selling them on the Internet. His beautiful bow ties became more and more popular. "I'm proud of Mark. If you have a dream, go for it at once," said Mark's mother.

根据材料内容选择最佳答案。

- () 26. When did Mark begin to make bow ties?
 A. At the age of 5. B. At the age of 7.
 C. At the age of 9. D. At the age of 11.
- () 27. Why did Mark decide to make bow ties?
 A. Because he wanted to sell them to others.
 B. Because he liked making things by himself.
 C. Because he wanted to teach others to make bow ties.
 D. Because he found most bow ties in shops were common.
- () 28. Who taught Mark to make bow ties?
 A. His classmate. B. His mother. C. His teacher. D. His friend.
- () 29. What can we know from the passage?
 A. Mark's first handmade bow tie was beautiful.
 B. Mark's bow ties were made of colorful materials.
 C. Mark thought few people would like his bow ties.
 D. Mark's mother didn't want him to start the business.
- () 30. What's the best title for the passage?
 A. Sharing nice bow ties B. Starting an online business
 C. A new way to make bow ties D. A smart boy and his bow ties

One day, my friend, John Dancer, walked into Holiday Hotel with his friend, Charlie. "Good morning!" he said to the clerk. "My name is John Dancer. I've booked a room here." The clerk said, "You're welcome to stay, sir. I'm sorry that we don't allow pets in this hotel." "Pets!" cried John. "Charlie isn't a pet. I'm blind and he's my eyes. He helps me a lot. Don't you, Charlie?" Charlie barked. It sounded like "Yes". Finally, the clerk agreed.

John told us what happened next in his own words.

"I was tired and went to sleep. Later, Charlie woke me up. He was pulling my blanket (毛毯) and barking. I smelt smoke! A fire! But where? I went to the door of my room and felt it. The door was so hot that I couldn't open it. The fire must be outside. I made my coat wet and put it along the bottom (底部) of the door."

"I tried the phone but failed. I coughed. The smoke was getting through the wet coat. I lay on the floor with Charlie in my arms and waited. The minutes seemed like hours. Then I heard the fire alarm. At that time, it sounded like beautiful music to me. Moments later, the firefighters found both of us safe on the ground."

"You saved Charlie's life!" I said.

"Yes, and he also saved mine," said John. "Didn't you, Charlie?"

Charlie barked. It sounded like "Yes".

McDonald's is one of the biggest restaurant chains (连锁餐厅) in the world. 36

The story of McDonald's started in the 1930s in Los Angeles, the USA. Two brothers, Richard and Maurice McDonald, wanted to start a business. 37 Next, they set up a food stand (食品摊) to sell hamburgers and orange juice. Though the food stand was successful, the brothers wanted something bigger.

At that time, more and more people were driving cars. 38 The restaurant was called McDonald's Barbeque. Its workers brought food like sandwiches to people who would wait in their cars.

— Soon after opening McDonald's Barbeque, the McDonald brothers had to compete with many similar restaurants nearby. They needed to think about how to make their restaurant different. 39 They also gave their restaurant a new name—McDonald's. That made their restaurant popular.

40 The brothers sold franchises (特许经营权) to open more restaurants. Later, Ray Kroc worked with the brothers. Kroc had big plans and wanted to open as many McDonald's as possible across the country. With lots of hard work, he helped turn McDonald's into a famous restaurant chain.

根据材料内容,从下面五个选项中选出能填入文中空缺处的最佳选项,使短文意思通顺,内容完整。
