Now online bookshops and e-books are welcome. It's easy to buy books on dangdang.com or amazon.com. So traditional bookshops have to make some changes.

Some traditional bookshops just sell one kind of books. For example, if you like watching movies, you can go to Popular Holdings in Shanghai. This bookshop has a lot of books about movies.

Some traditional bookshops have places for people to make friends and enjoy life. Eslite Bookshop in Taiwan doesn't only sell books. It also has clothes shops and cafes. You may even join Book Reading Clubs there, or talk with great writers. You can also go to Sisyphes Bookshop in Chongqing. It's relaxing to drink a cup of coffee there when you read a book.

Bart's Books in the US is also a good place to enjoy the sun when reading books. It's an outdoor bookshop. When the shop is closed, people can still buy books. They just put money into the door's box.

With these changes, more people like going to traditional bookshops. And it's part of their life. So when you visit a new place, why not find a good bookshop there and start a reading trip?

C

One day, when I was five years old, my mother suddenly asked me, "Who are your two best friends?"

"My classmates, Jill and Jaime," I answered.

"Well, what about Karen and Cindy?"

"But they're my sisters."

"Yes, but they can still be your best friends. Friends may come and go, but your sisters will always be there for you and they are your lifelong friends."

At the time, the idea of my two sisters being my closest friends seemed strange to me. We fought all the time over toys, food and what to watch on television.

Growing up as the only child, my mother wished she could have brothers or sisters. She often told us how lucky we were. She also did something to make us grow closer. She always took us out together and punished us equally (平等地), treating each one of us in the same way.

We didn't always get along very well, and we fought, just like other sisters. But slowly, we realised that our mother was right. Today I share things with my sisters. My sister, Cindy, and I ran the New York City Marathon together. When my another sister got married, I was her maid of honor (伴娘). The three of us trust each other with our greatest secrets.

( ) 8. The underlined word "lifelong" means "_____" in Chinese.

- A. Let the oldest daughter do the most housework.
B. Punish all her kids when one makes a mistake.
C. Treat each of her kids in different ways.
D. Have a trip with all of her kids.

( ) 10. Which of the following is TRUE?

- A. The writer's mum has no brothers or sisters.
B. The writer felt happy when she heard her mother's advice.
C. The writer ran the New York City Marathon together with Karen.
D. The writer stopped fighting with her sisters after the talk with her mum.

( ) 11. What's the main idea of this passage?

- A. How to find your closest friends.
B. Why mothers play an important role at home.
C. Why we should be friends with our sisters or brothers.
D. How the writer and her sisters became the closest friends.

D

I'm always interested in thrift shops (廉价旧货店). I have several ones where I buy something every weekend. That's how I relax myself.

Last month, one of my favourite shops started discounting (折扣) some clothes by 90%. Most of them were very beautiful. But I was not happy at first because nothing was in mine or my son's size.

Then I had an idea. I could first buy some sweaters and jackets for the coming cold weather. And then I could give them away to the homeless shelter (收容所)! In the last few weeks I got six large bags of sweaters, jackets, sweatpants and shirts for under $20! One of the jackets I got today was very new and still had the tag (标签) on it. Most of the other clothes are from famous factories and in really nice shape.

I went to the shelter today to give away the clothes. It was raining heavily. One poor man was lying on the wet floor. I asked him if he wanted something dry to lie on and gave him a sleeping bag. He was touched and said he really needed one.

Before moving all the clothes out of my car, I put a smile card into one of the jackets. I believe the person who gets it will feel warm and happy!

- ( ) 12. What's the hobby of the writer?
- A. Buying things in the thrift shops.      B. Selling things to the thrift shops.
C. Giving expensive things to the poor.      D. Selling old things to the poor.
- ( ) 13. How did the writer feel at first when she visited the thrift shop last month?
- A. Pleased.      B. Angry.      C. Nervous.      D. Unhappy.
- ( ) 14. Why did the writer decide to buy some sweaters and jackets?
- A. Because she could sell them at higher prices when winter came.
B. Because she could give them to the homeless when it was cold.
C. Because she could give them to her friends when it was cold.
D. Because she could wear them when winter came.
- ( ) 15. Which of the following is NOT true?
- A. The writer got many things in the thrift shops.
A. Most of the things in the thrift shops were too old.
B. Most of the things in the thrift shops were clean and new.
C. Some of the things in the thrift shops were made by famous factories.
- ( ) 16. What's the purpose (目的) that the writer put a smile card into a jacket?
- A. To find the jacket again in the future.
B. To let the person communicate with her.
C. To cheer up the person who would put it on.
D. To follow the common rule of the thrift shops.

Felicia Grimmerhag is from Sweden. She doesn't want anything to get in her way of making her dream come true, even if a life-changing accident happened.

After a serious car accident, Felicia had to get used to getting around in a wheelchair (轮椅). But it didn't stop her from following her dream of becoming a top horse rider.

In early June 2011, a car hit 17-year-old Felicia. When she woke up in the hospital, she found she lost both of her legs. However, Felicia didn't give up trying to make her dream come true. She began to ride as a little girl and decided to try again in the hospital. She didn't know if she would be able to make it. But after ten weeks' training with the help of the doctors and her coach, she could ride once again!

"Riding a horse means a lot to me," Felicia said. "When I sit on a horse, I don't feel like
