A poor farmer had a friend who was famous for the wonderful apples he grew.

One day, his friend gave the farmer a young apple tree and told him to take it home and plant it. The farmer was pleased with the gift, but when he got home, he did not know where to plant it.

He was afraid that if he planted the tree near the road, strangers would steal the fruit. If he planted the tree in one of his fields, his neighbors would come at night and steal some of the apples. If he planted the tree near his house, his children would take the fruit. Finally, he planted the tree in his woods where no one could see it. But without sunlight and good soil, the tree soon died.

Later the friend asked the farmer why he had planted the tree in such a poor place. "What's the difference?" the farmer told his thought angrily.

"Yes," said the friend, "but at least someone could have enjoyed the fruit. Now you not only have robbed (抢夺) every one of the fruit, but also you have destroyed (摧毁) a good apple tree!"

- () 54. Why didn't the farmer want to plant the tree in his field?
A. He thought strangers would steal the fruit.
B. He thought the tree would die.
C. He thought his children would take the fruit.
D. He thought his neighbors would steal the fruit.
- () 55. Why did the young tree die in the end?
A. Strangers pulled out the tree.
B. His neighbors cut down the tree.
C. His children broke the tree.
D. There was no sunlight and the soil was poor.

We have more or less trouble to face in our life. These things may give you too much stress which is bad for your development. So, how can we students deal with them?

As a student, schoolwork and grades are at the top of your stress list. You have a lot of schoolwork to do every day. Although your grades are not terrible, you may still worry that you are not as good as you expect. Why not make a daily or weekly plan for schoolwork? In this way, you can save more time to study and even avoid being too tired by taking some breaks. Don't be too strict with yourself. Just do what you can do. If you meet something beyond your ability, just go to your teacher for help—pick his or her brain or make any questions you don't understand clear.

Have you ever been worried about not having enough friends in school or not being in the same class with your best friends? Not getting along well with new classmates is also our common stress. It is important to choose your circle of friends. Don't hide yourself in your own world and try to make friends when you join in after-school activities. Make plans to meet your friends from other classes during break time. Know that everyone is different—do not compare yourself with others. You'll be less stressed that way.

Unhealthy eating habits and lack(缺乏) of sleep can also lead to stress. You are what you eat. Make healthy food choices that you can enjoy. Set a certain time to go to bed every night. Don't play computer games before you sleep. Do see a doctor if your sleeping problem continues.

The more successfully you deal with(处理) your stress, the better you will feel about yourself. Try out the above advice right away.

- () 61. What is the most stressful for a student?

A. Unhealthy eating habits and lack of sleep.

B. Not getting along well with new classmates.

C. Lack of friends.

D. Schoolwork and grades.

- () 62. What does the underlined word "avoid" in Paragraph 2 mean in Chinese?

A. 加强

B. 保持

C. 避免

D. 担心

- () 63. If your sleeping problem has troubled you for a long time, what can you do?

A. Have a healthy eating habit.

B. Go to see a doctor to ask for help.

C. Play computer games before you sleep.

D. Go to bed whenever you feel sleepy.

- () 64. What does the passage mainly talk about?

A. Too much stress of students.

B. Making friends with the new classmates.

C. Poor eating habits and lack of sleep.

D. How to deal with stress.

- () 65. Who is the text written for?

A. Students who are facing some stress.

B. Students who are learning new things.

C. Students who are leaving school.

D. Students who are having a trip.

阅读短文, 并按要求完成后面小题

Do you care about your neighborhood? Jim Green really cares about his. When his town went into lockdown(封闭隔离) because of COVID - 19(新冠疫情), the 15 - year - old boy found he had lots of time on his hands. However, he didn't spend his time playing video games or watching films. He did something meaningful for his neighborhood.

The outdoor areas in Jim's neighborhood were not in good condition. Some road signs were dirty and some were covered by branches(被树枝遮住). Seeing this, Jim Green decided to clean the signs and cut the branches.

According to his mom, Jim Green would go out in the morning, spend all day going around the neighborhood and tidying things up, go home by evening, and do it again the next day. He was tired but happy.

Soon enough, people in his neighborhood saw his hard work. They shared before - and - after photos of the signs he had cleaned online. Many people were touched by his simple act of kindness. They were so thankful that they even donated (捐献) money to him. However, Jim Green didn't spend the money on new clippers (剪具) or even something for himself. He donated it to a local food bank for families in need. Jim Green is happy to see a tidy neighborhood. For him, that is the best pay off of his hard work. It gives him a strong feeling of satisfaction and he plans to keep going.
