Rules are everywhere. When you're reading in the library, playing basketball on the playground or driving on the road, you'll have to follow some rules. But have you ever read any rules on a plane? If you're traveling by plane in America, you may find the following rules.

Exit Seat Criteria (标准)

If you are sitting in a seat next to the exit (紧急出口), read the information below.

You must:

- ▲ Be at least 15 years old and healthy enough to help others.
- ▲ Be able to (能够) speak, read and understand English well.
- ▲ Be able to go along a safe way from the emergency exit.
- ▲ Be able to help others away from the plane.

You must not:

- ▲ Take any pets, like dogs, cats and so on.
- ▲ Take someone that needs special care, such as a child.

If you cannot follow the rules, ask waiters to move you to another seat. You do not have to say why, and just say, "I do not want to sit in an exit seat."
