第二部分 阅读理解（共三节，满分 30 分）

第一节（共 5 小题；每小题 1 分，满分 5 分）

根据短文内容，判断正误（正确“T”，错误“F”），并将答案涂到答题卡的相应位置上。

A man has great skills in sailing（驾驶）the sailboat. Once he went out to the sea meeting with a heavy rainstorm, and he was in great danger. However, his sailboat drifted（漂泊）in the sea for half a month and finally he went back home safely. The fishermen all called him “The Ship King.”

The Ship King had a son. He had high hopes for his son, hoping he could learn the skills in sailing. The Ship King’s son studied very hard. When he grew up, he had a good knowledge（知识）of sailing. So the Ship King let his son put to sea alone. But his son died from a negligible typhoon（微不足道的台风）.

The Ship King was very sad. "I really can't understand that my sailing skills are so good, but why my son's skills were so poor? When he was a child, I began to teach him how to sail. I've taught all my experience to him.

The fishermen comforted him. At this time, an old man asked, "Did you always teach him step by step?"

"Yes, in order to make him get all the skills, I was teaching him very carefully. "

"Did he always put to sea with you?" the old man asked again.

"Yes, my son had never been away from me. "

The old man said, "So, you are also in fault (过错) . " The Ship King was in surprise.

The old man said, "You just taught him skills but no lessons. As for knowledge, it will be only an armchair strategy (纸上谈兵) without lessons as the groundwork (基础) . "

21. The fishermen called the man "The Ship King" because he had good skills in sailing.

22. The man had no hopes for his son, just hoping his son could be in good health.

23. The son studied hard, but he didn't have a good knowledge of sailing.

24. The man couldn't understand why his son's sailing skills were so poor at first.

25. From the passage, we can know that skills and lessons are both important in life.

During the Northern Song Dynasty (北宋) (960-1127), there lived a man called Yang Shi. He devoted (奉献) his whole life to study, and to spreading (传播) his ideas and theories.

One day, Yang Shi and his classmate, You Zuo, got into a discussion about one thing, and they couldn't agree with each other. So they decided to ask their teacher, Cheng Yi, for help.

It happened to be the deep winter. As they made their way, a very cold wind blew strongly, and the heavy snow began to fall. The wind cut their faces like a knife and the snow kept getting inside their clothes. But they just cared about their problem, and they continued walking in the snow. When they reached Cheng Yi's house, they found him sitting by the fire and sleeping. Yang Shi and You Zuo didn't want to wake up their teacher, so they stood outside the door waiting for him to wake up.

The snow kept falling, thicker and thicker. Though they shivered (哆嗦) with cold, they still stood respectfully (尊敬地) there. All they could hear was the sound of the falling snow. Several times, You Zuo, unable to stand the cold, wanted to wake up their teacher, but each time Yang Shi stopped him.

After a long time, Cheng Yi woke up. He saw the two men standing in the snow, covered in snow. Looking closely, he realized that they were Yang Shi and You Zuo. The teacher invited them inside at once.

The well-known story tells us how Yang Shi respected his teacher.
