Dale is a new student in our school. We are in the same class. He sits behind me in the classroom. He is short and thin. He has small eyes and a big mouth. His clothes are old but clean. Many students don't want to be friends with him, because they think he isn't "beautiful".

Dale learns hard. He is good at many subjects. He is always the first to answer the teacher's questions in class. He also follows our school rules and is never late for school. After class, he often helps to clean the classroom. When he is free, he often goes to the school library and does some reading there.

Dale is kind and friendly to our classmates. If we have any problems and ask him for help, he always stops to give us a hand. After school, he usually plays sports with our classmates for an hour. We are good friends now. He doesn't look so beautiful, but he has a beautiful heart (心).

I think it's important for us to look beautiful, but it's more important to have beautiful hearts.

66. Why do some students NOT want to be friends with Dale?
- A. Because they think Dale doesn't look nice. B. Because they think Dale isn't friendly.
C. Because Dale never helps them. D. Because Dale always asks them for help.
67. How does Dale often spend his free time?
- A. By helping others. B. By reading in the school library.
C. By playing sports. D. By cleaning the classroom.
68. What does the writer want us to do?
- A. To help others more. B. To learn hard.
C. To keep clean and tidy. D. To have beautiful hearts.
