I was always busy and had too many things to do. Whenever my 31 let me change my plans, I thought to myself, “We don’t have 32 for this.” So the two words I always said to my daughter were: hurry up.

The other day, we rode to a supermarket near our home. After shopping, I bought my daughter an ice cream, and she 33 at a table happily with the ice cream in her hand. 34 a worried look appeared on her face. “Do I have to eat it up in a hurry, Mum?”

I nearly cried when 35 this—the pains of a hurried life influenced(影响) my poor girl so deeply! As she looked at me waiting to know if she could take her time, I knew I had to make a(n) 36.

“You don’t have to hurry. Just 37 it.” I said gently. Her whole face brightened. We sat side by side talking about things that interested us.

38 she got to the last bite(一口), she held it out to me, “I saved the last bite for you, Mum,” she said happily. I gave my child a little time and in return, she 39 me her last bite and reminded me that things taste sweeter and love is 40 to get when you stop rushing through life.

Hand gestures are part of body language. The same hand gesture may mean different things in different countries. Here are some examples.

Thumbs(拇指) up

In America, you can give somebody the thumbs up if you think something is very good. You can also use it when you’re in need of a ride. But in Germany, it means “one”. And giving someone the thumbs up is asking for trouble in some countries, like Iran and Iraq.

The “V” sign

In China, the “V” sign is very popular. People like to make the sign when they take pictures. It makes their faces look cuter and smaller. In America, this gesture means “victory (胜利)”. But in the UK, it is rude (粗鲁的) to make this sign when the back of the hand is facing the other person.

The dog call

In America, the dog call is used to call someone to come closer to you. But in China, this gesture isn't welcome because they only do this to pets. It's very rude if you do it to people.

When you visit a new country, it is important to learn what the gestures mean so that you won't offend (冒犯) anyone.

- () 41. Thumbs up means “one” in _____.
A. the US B. France C. Germany D. China
- () 42. People like to make the “V” sign when they _____ in China.
A. sing songs B. take photos C. go shopping D. go swimming
- () 43. In China, _____ isn't welcome because they only do this to pets.
A. the thumbs up B. the dog call
C. the “V” sign D. the “OK” sign

(B)

We know people can be nice, but what about animals? Scientists say that some animals are able to be nice. Animals can act nicely, even when they don't have to. Here are some surprising stories about animal behavior (行为).

Geza Teleki is a scientist who studies chimpanzees (黑猩猩) in Tanzania. One day, Teleki went far away from his camp. He didn't have any food. Teleki wanted some fruit from a tree, but the tree was too tall. A young chimpanzee watched him as he tried to get something to eat. The chimpanzee climbed the tree, picked the fruit, and gave it to him!

An elephant in Kenya hurt his trunk (象鼻). He needed help because he couldn't put food into his mouth. Researcher Kayhan Ostovar watched silently. He saw the hurt elephant show the wound of his trunk to a healthy elephant. The healthy elephant didn't need any more information. He took food and put it carefully into his new friend's mouth.

Hippos (河马) and crocodiles (鳄鱼) are usually good friends. They hang out together in rivers. But Karen Paolillo saw something surprising. One day, a crocodile tried to eat a monkey that was next to a river. A hippo ran quickly to the crocodile and helped the monkey escape from it. Why did the hippo do that? Paolillo says hippos sometimes protect other animals from crocodiles.

- () 44. Scientists say that some animals are able to be _____.
A. nice B. quiet C. noisy D. happy
- () 45. The underlined word “escape” means “_____” in Chinese.
A. 燃烧 B. 驾驶 C. 逃跑 D. 扔掉
- () 46. Which of the following is TRUE according to the passage?
A. Animals that live in groups follow rules.
B. Some animals can be nice to other animals.
C. Most animals are foolish.
D. People should live with all the animals.

Subject: UFOFrom: Jack

Dear Ted,

I had a very unusual experience last month. It was half past nine last night and I was getting ready for bed. I heard some strange noise outside while I was brushing my teeth. I wondered what was happening and I went to the window and looked out. To my surprise, I saw a bright yellow green light in the sky. You can imagine how strange it was!

The light disappeared and then suddenly some “tiny people” were standing in the garden. There were four of them. Two of them ate some flowers in the garden. One of the people was looking at me through the window. Its whole body was green. It had no ears or nose. Its hands were huge. Its eyes were very big and looked like eggs. It looked at me and I could hardly move. While they were in the garden, I called my parents. However, they all ran away!

At around ten o'clock in the morning of the second day, I met them again while I was walking down the street. They went into a souvenir(纪念品) shop. While they were looking at the souvenirs, the shop assistant called the police. Before the police arrived, the aliens left the shop and then disappeared.

参考范文:

Is it a good idea for people to keep pets at home in cities? Recently we have had a discussion.

Some students think it's a good idea to keep pets because the pets are so lovely that you can play with them. Besides, when they walk their pets, they are doing exercise, too. However, the other students are against the idea. In their opinion, if too many people keep pets at home, it is dirty and it is bad for the environment. What's more, pets may make too much noise and even attack people.

For me, I like animals, so I think it is good to keep pets at home. Keeping pets is good for old people who live alone at home. But we must get some ways to prevent them from polluting our environment.
