Miracles (奇迹) will happen if you don't give up trying. Even if you have 16 for one hundred times, you may succeed (成功) when you try for the 101st time.

When I was born, my doctor told my mother that there was something wrong with my 17. They were too soft to be able to walk. Although the news was bad, my mother didn't become 18. She didn't believe what the doctor said and started to look for other ways.

My mother kept looking for 19 doctors for me, and finally she succeeded. The doctor and his team in the hospital tried many times and did 20 they could to help me. They also asked my parents to teach me to do some exercise to help me walk. One day, when my mother came to pick me up , I crawled (爬) towards her. She was so surprised and happy that she couldn't believe 21 eyes. Crawling was not walking, but it was a good 22 . Day by day, I could walk by myself.

When I grew up, my mother 23 told me these stories. She said that if I thought of what she said whenever I met difficulties, I could do anything successfully. I have been working 24 and I have turned out to be a very excellent person. I always get best grades in all my subjects at school. What's more, I become a good dancer and swimmer. Thanks to my mother's strong resolution (决心) , I can live a happy life now. What the story tells us, as my mother always says, is: Never 25 , and the miracles will surely appear some day.

In the early days, many people in San Francisco came from China. Some worked as labours (劳工) in the gold fields, and others on railroads (铁路). These were poor people when they first came to America. They worked very hard to make a living.

When the Chinese could afford to they built houses much like their homes in China. Some opened stores to sell products from China to other Chinese. Others opened restaurants to serve Chinese food. These people enjoyed the things they were used to having in their homeland. Today Grand Avenue is the main street to the very large Chinese-American community called Chinatown. Children who live in this area go to the San Francisco City School. Some also go to Chinese language schools to learn how to read and write Chinese.

People from different places enjoy visiting Chinatown. They may buy beautiful carvings or silks in the Chinese shops. They like to eat the different foods served in the Chinese restaurants. Visitors to Chinatown also enjoy hearing the sounds of China. The music seems strange because it sounds so different from American music.

A favourite time to visit Chinatown is during the Chinese New Year, usually in February. A big procession to celebrate the New Year led by a huge dragon made from paper and silk is the most impressive show.

- () 29. Long ago, many poor Chinese went to San Francisco of the US in order to _____.

C. A procession led by a huge dragon. D. Different music from China.

- () 31. Which of the following is TRUE?
- A. In the early days, many people in San Francisco from China only worked on railroads.
 - B. In the past, Chinese people in San Francisco opened restaurants to serve American food.
 - C. In Chinatown, the music of China sounds the same as that of America.
 - D. Every year, the Chinese in Chinatown celebrate the Chinese New Year.

C

As you enjoy the great beauty of Big Bend National Park, safety comes first. By giving careful thought to your actions, you can have a safe, exciting and happy time in it.

Driving

- Be careful with the speed limit in the park, and look out for monkeys and rabbits along roads, especially at night.
- Stop on the side of the roads when you want to take pictures-do not stop on roadways.
- Take enough water, food and sleeping bags. If your car breaks down, stay with it. It is much easier for others to find a car on a road than a person walking through the forest.

Fire

- Wood fires and ground fires are not allowed in the park.
- Be more careful when smoking.

Wildlife

- Never feed wildlife.
- Watch your children closely.
- If you meet a tiger or a lion, back away. If you think it may attack (袭击) you, wave your Arms, throw stones and shout but never run.
- Poisonous (有毒的) snakes are active during warmer months. Carefully check your shoes before putting them on and your sleeping bags before using them.

- () 32. From the passage we can know that _____ in Big Bend National Park.
- A. lions won't attack tourists
 - B. there is danger for tourists
 - C. snakes are active during winter
 - D. you can't find monkeys or rabbits

五、任务型阅读（答案每题不超过8个词；共5小题，每小题2分，共10分）

Yesterday Susan and forty other students got wet and dirty! They worked six hours and removed rubbish from the river that runs across the city. They cleaned up the river as part of a week-long environmental camp. This river was so polluted that it's unsafe for swimming and fishing. This is the third summer for Susan and her friends to do the river cleanup. People have seen a change in this river. When the cleanup started three years ago, rubbish was everywhere in the river. But this year the students had to look for the rubbish in their boats.

Environmental scientists speak highly of the students for their work. “Rubbish in the river makes people care about the environment. ” Susan says.

“I hope when others see my friends and I clean it up, maybe they will think twice before they throw rubbish into the river. ” Susan added.

根据短文,回答下列问题:

51. How many students removed rubbish from the river yesterday?
52. How long does the environmental camp last?
53. Is the situation in the river getting better or worse?
54. What do environmental scientists think of the students' work?
55. Are the sentences in the passage mostly facts or opinions?
