I'm Li Hua from Xinhua Middle School. I had a quarrel with my friend. We didn't talk with each other for a week, because he told the teacher that I copied others' homework. Actually, I finished my homework on my own and I didn't want to be misunderstood either. So, one day I spoke the truth to him. After that, we became good friends again. From this experience, I have learned that making everything clear is the best way to clear up misunderstanding.
