Some top students are giving advice .

Bill, Canada

When taking tests, relax. If you're worried that you'll fail the test, you're sure to get a low score. If you studied for it long enough that you know the information, then you shouldn't be worried about getting a low grade .

Lily , America

Remember the most important advice on getting good grades is very simple. Do well in tests to get an A or an A- . Do what your teacher says, and the chances are fairly good that you'll get an A+ . Don't stress yourself . Act cool.

Betty , Britain

Write good notes. Colored pens are fun to write with if you want to get more creative with your notes, but use them only for sections of your notes that will probably be on a test or that are important. It makes them stand out. Go over your notes before you take the exams.

Tom, Australia

In order to get good grades, try to do your homework immediately after school. Time management(管理) is important. If the teacher tell you to do the homework next week, get started the same day you know it. Before you start, you'd better make clear what to do and how to do it .

When Emily was four years old, her grandfather gave her a hammer(锤子). She loved using it, and started to learn how to make toys from old things.

A few years later, Emily learned about the situation in some African countries where women and children often walk many kilometers a day to get water for their villages. They can only carry one bucket(桶) a time, and they usually put the bucket on their head. Emily's invention is a simple carrier. The "wheel" on the water carrier is made of branches of trees. It's made of wood, so it's easy to repair. It makes it possible for women to transport up to five buckets each time. They don't have to carry the bucket on their head.

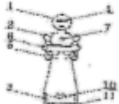

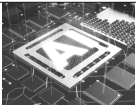

Her latest project is a simple fridge that runs without electricity using only the energy that comes from the sun. There are now thousands of families in villages in Zambia(赞比亚) and South Africa that use it to keep milk, food and medicine cool.

Emily often visits schools and talks to teenagers. She wants to inspire(鼓舞) them to come up with new ideas that make the world a better place. She isn't interested in making a bigger TV or better sound system. She wants to create things that can make the world better.

- ( ) 54. How many inventions made by Emily are mentioned in the passage?
A. One.                      B. Two.                      C. Three.                      D. Four.

Imagine you're enjoying dinner with your friends at a nice restaurant. You're having a great time when suddenly you hear a phone ringing at the table next to you. A man takes out his phone and starts talking about problems he's having with his girlfriend. He keeps talking for almost ten minutes! How will you feel? Maybe you will feel uncomfortable, but you can do nothing about it.

This happens all the time, not only in restaurants, but also on buses, at the cinema, everywhere!

phones are useful in our daily lives. But be careful not to be noisy phone users and disturb others. You are supposed to control your own behavior. Here are a few rules:

Follow the rules! When you're in public places and see a sign that says "Turn off phones", don't use your phone. If you are allowed, speak softly for a short time and try to keep away from other people.

Phone off! Never make calls in a theater, when you are watching a movie or enjoying a concert.

Pay attention! Talking on a phone while driving is dangerous. And watch where you're going when you're walking down the streets and talking on the phone.

As more people use phones, things are going to get worse. So, the next time you're getting ready to make a call, stop and consider the people around you.

IX. 任务型阅读(共 5 小题;每小题 2 分,满分 10 分)

阅读下面短文,按要求完成 66—70 题。

Have you ever counted the number of digits (数字) in your mobile phone number? Your number has 11 digits. You may sometimes find it hard to remember your number. That's because China has the longest mobile phone numbers in the world. Why is that?

The 11 digits can be divided into three parts. Each part has a different meaning. The first three numbers tell you which mobile phone service provider you are using. For example, 135 is for China Mobile Communications Corporation and 188 is for China Unicom. The fourth to the seventh digits tell you where the number is registered (注册). And the last four digits are random (随机的).

The main reason for using 11 digits is that we have the largest population in the world. We once had 10 numbers. But as our population grew, there were not enough numbers for us to use. So we began to use 11 digits starting from 1999. Eleven digits can be used to make tens of billions of mobile phone numbers. That's enough for each person to have seven or eight phone numbers to use in China.

And mobile phone numbers can be recycled. Usually, the service provider will reuse a canceled number after three to six months. If you call a number that you haven't contacted (联系) for a long time, you may find that its owner has changed.

Besides China, Britain and Japan also use 11-digit mobile phone numbers. But their numbers always start with 0. So they cannot create as many numbers as we can. Countries like the United States, Australia and India use phone numbers with 10 digits. Canada's mobile phone numbers are perhaps the shortest in the world; they use seven digits.

请听第一组对话, 回答第 11 题。

W: Tony, would you like to join us singing tomorrow?

M: I don't like singing. Why not play sports? That is good for health.

W: Sounds great. What about playing basketball?

M: Oh, I prefer football to basketball.

Question No.11: What sport does Tony prefer?

请听第二组对话,回答第 12 题。

W: Jack, let's play football after school.

M: I'd love to, but I'm not allowed to play sports on schooldays.

W: Is that your family rule?

M: Yes, but I'm allowed to play basketball with my friends on Saturday afternoon.

Question No.12: What is Jack allowed to do on the weekend?

请听第三组对话,回答第 13 题。

W: Where have you been, Mike?

M: China. I found that table manners in China and Canada are quite different.

W: Can you give me an example?

M: Of course. In Canada, to finish the food on my plate is polite, but in China, I shouldn't finish everything on my plate.

W: Really? But I know that will be changed. A law was made to prevent food waste in China.

Question No.13: In which country is it polite to finish the food on one's plate?

请听第四组对话,回答第 14—15 题。

M: Do you know whose music magazine this is, Lucy?

W: I have no idea. Why not open it and find more information?.

M: OK. Here's a hair band in it. It must belong to a girl.

W: Look! A piece of paper! There are some French words on it.

M: It must be Linda's. She is learning French.

W: I agree with you.

Question No . 14: Why do they think the magazine belongs to a girl?

Question No . 15: What language is Linda learning?

请听第五组对话,回答第 16 至 18 题。

M: Hi, Mary. You seem excited, don't you?

W: Yes, Bill. I've just watched an English movie in the library.

M: Really? Do you learn English by watching English movies?

W: That's right. I often watch English movies on the Internet.

M: How many English movies have you watched so far?

W: One hundred and forty-six. Now I can use English to communicate with people, although sometimes I still make mistakes in grammar.

M: I also want to watch English movies, but my English is poor. Sometimes I can't understand spoken English.

W: Don't worry. Watch them more and you are sure to improve your English.

Question No.16. Where did Mary watch an English movie just now?

Question No. 17. How many English movies has Mary watched so far?

I'm Mary. I'm a middle school student. I have lots of problems getting along with others. As a teenager, I am interested in anything new. I like watching some movies that are scary. I think they are scary but exciting. But my parents think they are meaningless and bad for my mind and health. I like listening to music. My favorite singer Jay Chou came out with a new song last month. So I listened to it on my phone in the classroom. My head teacher took it away and told me that I shouldn't do it again. I like dark-colored clothes. I think they make me cool. But my classmates don't like them. I'm so sad. Can you help me?

Question No.19. What does Mary think of scary movies?

Question No. 20. What color of clothes does Mary like to wear?

Question No 21. How many problems are mentioned?

请听第二篇短文,回答第 22~25 题。

John Smith was born in London. Now he works as an office worker in Washington. He got a million dollars from his father when he was 26, but he wasn't happy at all. He decided to live a simple life like everyone else. He gave some money to the poor children in need. Today, he is 36. He still wears cheap shoes and clothes and drives a small car, but he is very happy. John has helped children from poor countries all over the world. The money he gave has been used for children's studies, food, medicine and clothing. If the money was used for something bad, he would feel worried and angry.

He says helping others bring him happiness.

Question No.22. Where does John live now?

Question No.23 How old is john now?

Question No.24 What is the money used to do for the children in poor countries?

Question No.25 How does John feel when he helps the children?

V.听短文填空。下面你将听到一篇短文,短文读两遍。请你听完短文的第二遍朗读后,根据短文的内容和提示,在信息表中相应的横线上填入所缺信息。

Have you ever heard of crop circles? They're beautiful pictures appearing in the fields. They appeared in old stories of South Africa and China. In about 1890, some policemen and farmers saw some crop circles. Around 1980, they often appeared in southern England. Some people believe that crop circles are made by aliens, because the pictures are always very huge and hard to finish in a short time.

However, some people think they are made by humans. Crop circles often appear near the roads and places of interest, so they can interest more tourists.

How to communicate with Our parents

Communication with parents is one of the first things we have done since we were born. As we grow older, we'll find it's not easy to communicate with our parents openly and effectively. So what should we do when communicating with them? Here are some of my ideas.

Firstly, we can make a list of things our parents and we disagree about most. Try to find out the reason why we disagree with each other. Accept each other's ideas little by little. If we still have disagreements, we'd better not get too angry.

Secondly, we should talk with them more! Sharing ideas can make us closer. Besides, we should also learn how to really listen. Listening is a skill that must be learned and practiced.

Finally, be sure to be polite. We are a family in which everyone is loved and cared for.

All in all,if you can often communicate with your parents ,I believe that your relationship will become better and better.
