Dear Mike,

I'm very happy to hear that you're coming to China next week. I hope to see you soon.

As we all know, different countries have different customs. So the manners in China are very different from those in your country. Let me tell you something about customs and manners in our country.

First, we are supposed to shake hands when we meet for the first time. Then we greet each other. After that, you can talk about something relaxing, such as your favourite players, stars and movies. Second, we use chopsticks to have meals while you use your forks at table. Also, it's impolite to talk too much when you're having meals. It is impolite to point at others with your chopsticks while eating. We are not supposed to stick chopsticks into the food.

I hope you'll have a wonderful time in our country.

Yours,
Li Hua
