English people and Chinese people are different(不同的) in many ways(很多方面). For example(例如), English names are different from Chinese names.

Many English people have three names, a first name (a given name), a middle name and a last name (or a family name). For example, my name is James Allen Green. James is my first name. Allen is my middle name. Green is my last name. We don't use(使用) Mr., Mrs., Ms. or Miss before(在.....之前) the first names. We use them before the family names. You should call me Mr. Green.

But in China, people use Mr., Mrs., Ms. or Miss before their first names, because(因为) the first name is the family name. For example, my Chinese name is Lin Tao. "Lin" is my family name, and "Tao" is my given name. You can call me Mr. Lin.
