Reyes Guana, 42, grew up in a poor family. He has seven brothers and sisters. His parents always had two jobs to make ends meet.

When Guana was little, he got along well with the school cleaner. The boy liked how she made everything clean. He told her that he wanted to be a cleaner, too. "Well, it's good if you want to be a cleaner," the cleaner told little Guana, "But make sure you go to college(大学)."

Guana also looked up to the headmaster of his school. The school headmaster told the boy that his job was to help students and teachers. "Wow, when I grow up, I want to do what you're doing," Guana told him, "Well, if you hold on to your dream, you will." the headmaster answered.

And Guana really got there. But it was quite a long way for him. Twenty-three years ago, he followed the cleaner's footsteps and cleaned schools. He worked at three schools to pay for his college education. He held that job for four years and then worked his way up to being a school safety personnel(保安). After that, he worked as a teacher for a few years.

Now, as a headmaster, Guana never forgets where he came from. He helps students from poor families and shows respect(尊敬) for every school member. He always invites people to school parties, like those who clean the floors and those who drive the school buses.

C. Hard-working and polite.

D. Quiet and upset.

D

Once I asked my students to draw clothes. I wanted to know what they thought about fashion. A few students expressed their opinions freely while others spent some hours trying to find right words to express their feelings. At the beginning, they were a little confused (困惑). There was a famous Romanian saying: Clothes do not make the man. They thought there was no need to care about too much what clothes they should wear.

Reading their short writings, I learned that most of the children are not really happy with their clothes while others don't care about fashion. The young children prefer beautiful clothes, and the others prefer comfortable ones.

Looking through these writings, I could understand students' personal ideas on their clothes, their favorite colors, styles or clothing preferences. I think it was a good exercise to encourage(鼓励) them to accept new ideas.

61. Why did the teacher ask students to draw clothes?

A. He wanted to give students homework.

B. He wanted students to wear their favorite clothes.

C. He wanted to know students' opinions about fashion.

D. He wanted students to write an article about clothes.

62. The Romanian saying "Clothes do not make the man" means "_____".

A. Clothes are not important to people

B. People should wear suitable clothes

C. People can't judge a man by his clothes

D. Clothes play an important role in people's lives

63. From children's writings, what did the writer find out?

A. Most children were happy with their clothes.

B. Some children didn't care about fashion.

C. Most children like to wear their favorite clothes.

D. Little children didn't care about their clothes too much.

64. What kind of clothes do young children like to wear?

A. Cheap clothes.

B. Expensive clothes.

C. Beautiful clothes.

D. Comfortable clothes.

65. What did the teacher think of the class?

A. It was a good exercise for students.

B. It was difficult for students to understand.

C. It could make students know the importance of clothes.

D. It could encourage students to accept the clothes they wear.

Most schools have cooking lessons for children between the ages of seven and fourteen in England. It is part of a plan to get children to study more life skills. We want to know what you think. 66

Emily thinks that the teacher should teach every child how to cook as it is a life skill. 67 It could also help stop being too heavy if they cook instead of getting a takeaway(外卖).

Catherine says having cooking lessons at school is a good idea. Not only can it teach children to be healthy but it can also show them how to be safe when cooking at home. It can also help children to take care of themselves when they are older. 68

Ruby says they shouldn't let little kids make their own meals because they may hurt themselves. 69 Kids from 10 or older should start learning how to cook.

70 Anna thinks children should learn to cook because they will learn what healthy food is and they could also help their parents in the kitchen.
