Coco(《寻梦环游记》) did a successful job in showing the afterlife and people's memories of their dead family members.

The movie comes from the Mexican holiday of Dia de los Muertos(亡灵节). The young boy Miguel loves music so much. However,his family all say NO to his musical dream. That really lets him down,so he runs away from home. On Dia de los Muertos,he goes to the “Land of the Dead” by accident. There, Miguel meets his dead family members and has an adventure. Only after the experience does he know how much his family love him.

In the movie,the “Land of the Dead” is not a scary place. There are friendly skeletons(骷髅). On Dia de los Muertos,they can cross a bridge of flowers to “visit” their living family members. As long as their family put their photos on a family shrine(神龛),they can do this every year. If not,their spirits will disappear into the air.

The movie sends a clear and warm message about the importance of family. Family is the most important thing in Mexican culture. On Dia de los Muertos,people in Mexico share food and drinks to remember their ancestors(祖先), just like the people in the movie. The movie teaches kids to keep and respect the memory of their elders.

- () 44. How does Miguel feel when his family say NO to him?
A. Happy. B. Sad. C. Free. D. Excited.
- () 45. What can we know about the “Land of the Dead”?

C. The skeletons need to put their photos on a family shrine.
D. There is a bridge for skeletons to visit their living family members.
- () 46. What is the most important thing in Mexican culture?
A. Family. B. Money. C. Food. D. Drinks.

(C)

Robert and his brother were playing football in their front yard. Suddenly a woman ran out of her house shouting to them to call an ambulance. Her 12-week-old baby seemed to stop breathing. She was so scared that she couldn't find her cell phone, so she had decided to rush outside to ask for help.

As the woman was trying to do CPR(心肺复苏术) on her baby, young Robert came in and told her she was doing it all wrong. He asked her to use two fingers, push on the chest 5—10 times, tilt(倾斜) the baby's head, plug(堵住) the nose and then do a mouth-to-mouth resuscitation by breathing into the baby's mouth.

Luckily for the baby, the woman accepted Robert's advice. Just for a second, a loud cry came from the baby. Soon the doctors came and the baby was sent to hospital.

The most amazing part of this story is that Robert has not attended a CPR class. Instead, he learned it all by carefully reading the posters(宣传画) on the walls of his school hall. And, while he is now being called as a hero and even interviewed on TV, he is just glad to have saved the baby's life! “Thanks to the school culture, he could save the kid!” his teacher said to the reporter proudly.

- () 47. The woman's _____ baby seemed to stop breathing.
A. 13-month-old B. 12-week-old C. 11-week-old D. 12-month-old
- () 48. Who taught the woman to do CPR correctly?
A. Robert's parents. B. Robert. C. Robert's brother. D. Nobody.
- () 49. What's the Chinese meaning of the underlined word “resuscitation”?
A. 复苏 B. 保存 C. 逃跑 D. 预留
- () 50. What's the main idea of the last paragraph?
A. Robert was interviewed on TV.
B. Robert is a hero because he saved the baby.
C. The school culture is good for students.
D. It's no use reading the posters on the walls.

第二节: 根据短文内容, 从短文后的选项中选出能填入空白处的最佳选项。选项中有两项为多余选项。(共5小题, 计5分)

Have you ever heard the story of Ellen MacArthur? On February 8, 2005, Ellen MacArthur arrived back in England after sailing around the world. She is now the fastest person to sail around the world alone. The journey took her more than two months without a single stop on land at any time. At that time she was just a 28-year-old girl.

Around 8,000 people were waiting at the harbour to say congratulations (祝贺) to her when she finished her amazing journey. She left England on November 28, 2004, and travelled around 43,000 kilometres to get back home.

Ellen MacArthur spent a long time preparing both her body and her mind for the long journey. During her journey, she only let herself sleep for less than 3 hours a day, because she had to make sure that nothing bad would happen to the boat. As she had no one else to talk to, the 71 days must have been very lonely. She used a small stove (火炉) to heat the frozen (冷冻的) meat she had taken with her. She had to sail carefully to keep away from danger. She often faced dangerous storms (暴风雨), but she never thought of giving up.

Ellen is now famous all over the world. Her story shows us that if you believe in yourself, you can achieve anything.

71. When did Ellen MacArthur arrive back in England after sailing around the world?

She arrived back in England after sailing around the world on _____.

72. How old was Ellen MacArthur when she finished her amazing journey?

Hi,everyone. I'm Mary. I'm pretty healthy. I usually exercise 1 hour after school with my father. My eating habits are very healthy. I try to eat a lot of vegetables. I have fruit and milk every day. I never drink coffee. As a teenager, of course, I love junk food, too. But I know it's not good for my health and my parents often tell me not to eat that kind of food. So I hardly eat junk food. I sleep nine hours every night. So you see, I take care of my health very well. And my healthy habits help me study better. How about you? Can you tell me how you keep healthy?
