第一节:阅读 A、B、C 三篇短文,从各小题所给的选项中选出能回答所提问题或完成所给句子的一个最佳答案。(共 10 小题,计 15 分)

Why not listen to some Bach or Beethoven while you're struggling to finish a task at work?

A survey of 2,000 UK workers showed that half listen to music on the job regularly. Some of those workers' bosses encourage the practice, but others are strictly against it, and they believe it hurts work performance. So, British classical music station Scala Radio and psychologist Dr. Spelman set out an experiment to decide if background music hurts work efficiency(效率).

Four office workers were asked to transcribe(抄写) two 600-word sets of song lyrics. The first set was transcribed with no music playing, while the other was completed with classical music playing in the background.

The first task, completed in silence, was completed in an average(平均的) time of 20 minutes and 59 seconds. However, the second exercise with music was completed in an average time of 17 minutes and 42 seconds.

“Music has a very powerful impact on the brain. It affects mood, mental performance and physical performance,” says Dr. Spelman.

“If classical(古典的) music has a calm, regular beat, it can actually help us to stay calm, reduce our stress, and slow our heartbeat,” says Dr. Spelman. “This makes it easier for us to focus on the task at hand rather than entering into ‘flight or fight’ mode, where it can be very difficult to think clearly.”

VII. 任务型阅读( 共 5 小题, 计 10 分)

阅读下面短文, 根据短文内容, 完成下列各题。

Did you walk into the cinema on National Day and watch the movie The Battle at Lake Changjin? It's about how the new China helped North Korea to push back the American soldiers( 士兵). It is not only the movie itself that makes people touched, but the heroes of the war who fought for our country and the people.

Let's take a close look at the real-life history behind the movie. Changjin Lake is in North Korea. The Battle at Lake Changjin was in a very cold winter with temperatures of around -40°C. In the 1950s, our Chinese soldiers had to face life-and-death problems when they got on the train to enter the DPRK. A US enemy plane bombed the trains, and the soldiers had to quickly move into the mountains and forests to hide. I still deeply remembered a picture in the movie. In order not to expose the target( 暴露目标), they stayed in the ice and snow without any moving. Although the follow-up troops( 后续部队) killed the enemy and won the battle, unluckily 125 soldiers were frozen to death. This is a movie about war and people. Many people can't help crying after watching this movie, because our Chinese soldiers used their lives to guard( 保卫) the country and the people.

It is the loveliest persons who guarded China's great rivers and mountains. However, many of them never have the chance to see the beautiful mountains and rivers again. The movie The Battle at Lake Changjin wants to tell today's young people; though we live in an age without war, we should never forget the true heroes in the history!

Hi, everybody,

I'd like to share my favourite movie type with you. I go to the movies twice a month and I like cartoons best. Here are three reasons why I like them.

First, the cartoon usually has funny dialogues and a happy ending. It can bring me happy feelings. Second, songs in cartoons are usually beautiful and easy to sing along with. My favourite cartoon is Frozen. And I think Frozen is the best cartoon that I've ever seen. Last, I can always learn something useful from cartoons. For example, I've learned from Frozen that we should never give up when we meet difficulties.

What do you think of cartoons? I think they're really worth watching.

My name is Mary. When I was a little girl, I had a lot of free time. I used to go to the concert with my friends. In the evening, I used to watch TV or chat online. Things have changed since I started junior high school. I have to get up early every morning and read Chinese or English. At school, I have many classes. Before going to bed, I spend two or three hours doing my homework. I have to take different classes on weekends. There is no free time for me to listen to music any more. I am really tired and bored these days.
