My interest in cooking started when I was 11, partly thanks to my mother. She didn't really like cooking and when she did cook, I didn't like her food. Once I was watching something about cooking on TV and I thought I could do this, so I went to the bookstore and looked for the biggest cookbook I could find.

During a year, I had produced most of its recipes (食谱) and was ready for a bigger challenge (挑战). I wanted to create my own dishes and I started cooking for more people than just my family. To my joy, my parents allowed me to build a test kitchen. I did much cooking to test my dishes in it and my skill improved quickly. Later, my mom and I set up a dinner club that organized monthly events inside my home. Now as a teen chef (主厨), I have also cooked in top-class restaurants around the country. I am not doing it for the money, but because I love cooking.

Now I know that when you stop caring whether you'll be famous or do well, your dream will come to you.

23. The writer is now _____.

- A. a TV star B. a news reporter C. a well-known bookseller D. a good chef

24. What made the writer begin to cook?

- A. His parents' wish. B. The customers' advice.
C. His mother's delicious food. D. The information about cooking on TV.

25. The underlined word "it" in Paragraph 2 refers to "_____".

- A. the bookstore B. a test kitchen C. a dinner club D. the country

26. What is important for the writer?

- A. Finding a good job. B. Making lots of money.

- C. Doing what he loves. D. Becoming famous.

D

Like many other young boys, I didn't know what I wanted to be when I was a middle school student. My mother advised me to be a teacher like her, but it seemed that I was not interested in it. My father wanted me to be a pianist. However, I couldn't stand spending all of my time in front of a piano.

I got my goal after I went to high school. I got a parttime job at the school radio station and I found it was interesting. I loved to discuss school life and my favorite music with my schoolmates on the radio. I kept doing this job during the next six years. When I left the university, I got a fulltime job at our local(当地的)radio station. My career(事业)began. My program is successful and I have a lot of fans. I enjoy my job and my life now.

27. What did the writer's mother do?

- A. A teacher. B. A pianist. C. A doctor. D. A scientist.

28. What did the writer talk about on the radio in the beginning?

- A. School news. B. Famous films. C. School life. D. Famous people.

29. Which of the following is TRUE?

- A. The writer was interested in teaching. B. The writer couldn't play the piano.
C. The writer often interviews(采访)stars. D. The writer's program is very popular now.

30. Which is the best title of the passage?

- A. Never listen to your parents B. Study hard to make your dream come true
C. No job is easy to get D. The parttime job helped me find my career
