Tang Heshun is a postman (邮递员) in Lanzhou. Every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, he walks from one place to another with a green bag to deliver (递送) mail, even if it's rainy or snowy.

Thirteen years ago, Tang's cousin stopped working as a postman because of a health problem, and hoped Tang would take over his job. Tang always thought it would be good to do something for the villagers, so he said yes.

For many years, whenever he wanted to stop the work because of the bad weather, he would think about his cousin who was his model.

Tang still remembers the frightening experience(经历) of falling into a 2-meter-deep hole (洞) when he was working. He almost died that day. He went back home later than usual and then his family knew what had happened to him.

"My family told me to stop the work," Tang said. "I also started to think about stopping it. Then one day, I delivered an admission letter to college(大学录取通知书). I'll never forget the light in the villager's eyes."

After many years, Tang now knows the roads well. When working, he talks to the villagers about what's going on in cities. "Tang is so nice and hard-working. He is like a link between me and the outside world," said Wang Haozhong, a villager.

57. What does the underlined word "frightening" mean?

- A. Scary. B. Educational C. Common. D. Fantastic.

58. Which paragraph shows the reason why Tang didn't stop the work?

- A. Paragraph 2. B. Paragraph 4. C. Paragraph 5. D. Paragraph 6.

59. Which of the following is TRUE?

- A. Tang thought he did better than his cousin. B. Tang only works when the weather is fine.
C. Tang hardly talks to anyone when he is working.
D. Tang delivers mail on foot three days a week.

60. What's the best title for the passage?

- A. Poor villages in Lanzhou B. A hard-working postman
C. A difficult and meaningless job D. A bad working experience

D

School life is often happy and exciting. How can we keep those good memories (回忆)? Most high schools in the United States have a yearbook. The yearbook comes out once a year. It is a "book of memories" for students.

Inside a yearbook there is each student's photo. The fourth-year students are finishing school soon, and their photos appear first. Next are the third-year students. Next come the second-year students. The last photos are the first year students. The yearbook is not only about students, but the teachers' photos are also in it.

The yearbook also has photos and descriptions(描述) of sports teams, school subjects, and extracurricular activities. These are activities students do after school such as the chess club and Chinese club. There is even the yearbook club. Students in this club write and take photos all year for the yearbook. At the end of the year, the book comes out.

In the yearbook, some students get special titles (头衔). For example, the students choose the "class clown"—a funny student, the "most likely to succeed"—a student everyone thinks will be successful, and the "best dressed"—a student with a good fashion sense(时尚感).

Students write in each other's yearbooks. This is very important to the fourth-year students because they are saying goodbye to each other. Students write something like "We had a lot of fun." and "I'll never forget you." They also write about all the fun they shared in school together.

61. Whose (谁的) photos appear last in a yearbook?

- A. The first-year students'. B. The second-year students'.
C. The third-year students'. D. The fourth-year students'.

62. What does the underlined word "These" in Paragraph 3 refer to?

- A. Sports teams. B. Extracurricular activities. C. School subjects. D. Teaching activities.

63. Jane is good at making others laugh. What title may she get?

- A. The "class clown". B. The "best dressed".
C. The "young scientist". D. The "most likely to succeed".

64. Which of the following may students write in a yearbook?

- A. Nice to meet you! B. Please call back later.
C. I'll write to you often. D. Welcome to our school!

65. The writer wrote the passage mainly to _____.

- A. describe what a yearbook is B. tell us the history of a yearbook
C. teach us how to make a yearbook D. show how important a yearbook is

IX. 任务型阅读 (共 5 小题; 每小题 2 分, 满分 10 分)

阅读下面短文, 按要求完成 66~70 题。

Last summer my friends and I set up a youth club in our town. Before that, there was nothing for the young people to do after school and on weekends. So they were very bored.

It took a long time to open the youth club. First of all, we had to find a building. We put up posters (张贴海报) all over the town asking people to help us find a place. After a few weeks, an old man said we could use his old shop. Then we put some furniture (家具) in the shop. We didn't have to buy anything because so many people gave us chairs, tables and desks. A boy's parents gave us three computers and a large TV. A school football team gave us some sports equipment (器材). We also drew a lot of pictures and put them on the walls. The place looked really interesting and colorful.

I think our youth club is a great place. Young people can go there if they want someone to talk to. They can do sports there too. Also there is a room where we can sit quietly and study. This is useful to me because I have to share a room with my little sister at home. She talks all the time. That makes it hard for me to do my homework.

Creating the youth club is the best thing that I have ever done.

66、67 题完成句子; 68 题简略回答问题; 69 题找出并写下第三段的主题句; 70 题将文中画线句子译成汉语。

66. In the past, the young people felt _____ on weekends in the writer's town.

67. _____ offered (提供) a place for the youth club.

68. What did a boy's parents give the youth club?

69. _____

70. _____
