Ⅶ. 完形填空 (共 10 小题; 每小题 1 分, 满分 10 分)

阅读下面短文, 从各小题所给的四个选项中选出最佳选项。

The telephone rang and I answered it. "Hi, Steve," said the voice on the other end. "I just want to see 41 you're getting along." I had not heard from my old friend for many months. It was good to talk to him. It seemed so easy for us to feel 42 again as soon as we started talking. I wanted to know why we hadn't kept in 43. At the end of the conversation, he said, "If you need me in any way, I'll be happy to help out." And I knew what he meant!

I hung up the phone, feeling happy. That day I re-learned something 44 about life. Life is firstly about 45 —not plans, not to-do lists. It's not a million jobs left that we don't do—it's only about people.

To love and to know that others love us is the greatest 46. My friend reminded me that it is never enough just to love. We 47 also say it out.

George William Childs put it like this: "Do not keep the box of your love and friendship sealed up (封闭) 48 your friends are dead. Say the kind things you mean to say before they go. 49 nice words while their ears can hear them and while their hearts can be made happier. 50 their lives with sweetness..." Happiness may be just a phone call away.

One early morning, an old gardener found lots of his flowers missing. He was so angry that he shouted, "Who did this?" He wanted to protect his flowers, so he locked the garden in the evening.

The next morning, he found some of his flowers missing again. So he decided to find out what happened. When night came, he sat quietly to watch his garden. Soon he saw a tortoise (乌龟) moving slowly into the garden. The tortoise opened its mouth and ate a whole flower. The old gardener ran to the tortoise and shouted, "I catch you this time!"

"I'm sorry. If you want to punish me, please do not throw me into water. It is terrible to die that way," said the tortoise.

"You ate so many of my beautiful flowers. I must punish you!" said the old gardener. And he quickly threw the tortoise into a river next to his garden.

After some time, the tortoise swam away happily. Then the old gardener realized it was so silly to throw the tortoise into the river because the tortoise was not afraid of water.

Jackie, 14

Sofia Marconi, my friend Bia's mum, is probably the most amazing person I know. She is very brave. She is a wildlife photographer and she travels to some of the most dangerous places to take photos of the animals.

Jacob, 16

One of my heroes is Mr. Donaldson, our great music teacher. He finds different ways to make us interested in his lessons. He is also a really amazing guitar player. I'm sure he's going to be famous one day.

Alex, 15

My role model is my grandmother Gwen. She is 78. She is one of the nicest people I know. She always sees the good in other people. She still does volunteer work for a children's charity (慈善机构) in India!

Oliver, 17

The greatest person I know is my uncle William. I admire (钦佩) him not only because he is a brave police officer but also because he tries his best to look after my aunt and their kids. Life is hard. But I have never heard him complain (抱怨).

D

Tea and coffee are two of the most popular drinks in the world. However, people usually like one more than the other. These drinks also have very different uses.

Tea drinking started in China over 4,000 years ago. Tea is made from leaves. These days, some people drink tea for health, using it to help with stress (压力) or lose weight. However, most people in tea-drinking countries think of tea as more than just a healthy drink. In fact, tea drinking in some countries is a part of the culture. In Turkey, tea is always there when people meet. Whether in someone's home or a company, tea is always offered as a way of welcoming. In the UK, homes and offices usually have teatime. Tea and other dishes are served at teatime in the afternoon. It is a way of relaxing with friends or co-workers.

Coffee came much later than tea, just over 1,000 years ago. Coffee is made from beans. Something in the coffee beans makes a person feel good. Most people do not drink coffee to relax. Instead, they drink coffee to get energetic. Many people drink coffee in the morning to help them wake up. Others will also drink coffee during short breaks in the afternoon to keep going through the working day. Some people may visit coffee shops just to meet and talk with friends. However, many people in coffee shops drink coffee while working on their computers.

Is tea or coffee more common in your country? Between the two, which do you like to drink more?

61. Where did tea drinking start?
 A. In China.
 B. In Japan.
 C. In Turkey.
 D. In the UK.
62. When do people in the UK usually drink tea?
 A. In the morning.
 B. In the afternoon.
 C. After dinner.
 D. Before going to sleep.
63. What can we know about coffee?
 A. It is not so popular as tea.
 B. It came 1,000 years earlier than tea.
 C. It seems much more popular than tea.
 D. Many people drink it to help them wake up.

64. What does the underlined word "energetic" in Paragraph 3 probably mean?

- A. Bored.                      B. Mad.                      C. Lazy.                      D. Active.

65. What is the best title of the passage?

- A. The History of Tea and Coffee
B. The Developments of Tea and Coffee
C. The Different Cultures of Tea and Coffee
D. Different Ways of Making Tea and Coffee

IX. 任务型阅读 (共 5 小题; 每小题 2 分, 满分 10 分)

阅读下面短文, 按要求完成 66~70 题。

Rules tell you what you are allowed and not allowed to do. Generally speaking, there are four kinds of rules. The first one is the instructions that one person has to follow in the given order. The instructions can lead him or her to a certain goal. The second one is the orders that have been passed down from one generation(代) to the next. The third one teaches people how to behave well so that they can meet good results. The last one is the plans that are used in a certain way to increase the chance of reaching a special goal.

Rules play an important role in our society. They help build a good relationship. If people were allowed to do things as they wanted, we would probably meet stealing and something terrible like this. The rules can surely prevent such things happening. Rules can also help keep people safe. For example, we all know that if there were no traffic rules, there would be more accidents. What's more, rules can help build a better environment. It is a rule that students should wear uniforms at school. But what would happen if there were no such a rule? Students would care more about what they look like!

However, rules need to be used correctly. They should offer people chances to learn so that people are glad to accept them. Also, they should be offered in a simple and clear way. After that, they should tell people the possible results if they are not followed.

In a word, following rules is a useful way to bring you happiness, or at least, a peaceful life. However, it is important to use them correctly.

66 题完成句子; 67、68 题简略回答问题; 69 题找出并写下第二段的主题句; 70 题将文中画线句子译成汉语。
