Alice Lewis is from America. She is a creative girl. She likes to invent—to think of new ideas for things that no one has made before, and then make them.

One day, Alice's mother showed her an article which explained how difficult it was to get sick people through the countryside to the hospital in Africa. Alice wanted to help.

Alice knew that in North America, before there were cars, horses pulled heavy things on a travois (旧式雪橇) which was made of wood. Alice thought people in Africa could do the same thing. She added wheels (轮子) to the travois for the African people. To make her travois light to pull, she used bamboo, a plant that grows in Africa, instead of wood.

You need to wear a belt (腰带) to pull Alice's travois. That means you can free your hands to carry or hold other things. Alice thought her travois was perfect for carrying food home from the market, as well as taking people to the hospital. After it was finished, she wrote instructions for building one. So people in Africa could make it by themselves.

Alice doesn't know if she wants to be an inventor when she grows up, because she also likes music and writing. But she thinks it's important for children to learn about inventing at school.

根据短文内容，选择最佳答案。(5分)

66. What's Alice's travois made of?

- A. Bamboo. B. Wood. C. Iron. D. Glass.

67. The underlined word "light" in the passage means " _____ " in Chinese.

- A. 明亮的 B. 轻便的 C. 美观的 D. 舒适的

68. What did Alice do after she finished her travois?

- A. She tried to learn to use it. B. She showed it to her mother.
C. She drew a picture of it. D. She wrote the way to make it.

69. Which is the right order of the following sentences according to the passage?

- ① Alice thought her travois was perfect to take people to hospital in Africa.
② Alice is not sure if she will be an inventor when she grows up.
③ Alice wanted to help the people in Africa.
④ Alice added wheels to the travois for the African people.

- A. ①②③④ B. ④③②① C. ③②①④ D. ③④①②

70. What's the best title for the passage?

- A. Helping Others B. A Gift C. A Creative Girl D. A New Invention

(C)

As we know, the desert covers large areas of the Earth. In the desert, there is very little rain and it is very hot in the day and so cold at night. If you are a hiker (徒步者) or drive through the desert, it might be wise to know what you should do in order to be saved in the desert.

Drink a little water every hour. If you find a small piece of land where the earth is wet, dig deep to look for water. Another method of getting water is to cover a green plant with a plastic bag. As it breathes, the water vapor (蒸汽) will be collected inside the bag. Little by little, you can collect enough water to drink.

Plan to travel at night and sleep during the day, if you find you have to stay in the desert for a period of time. If you can find any shade (阴凉处) in the desert, use it to protect you from the strong sunlight.

Wear clothing in light color. It may seem like you'll be cooler if you wear that kind of clothes, which actually helps your body to become cool and helps protect you from sunburn.

Prepare to signal (发信号) planes passing overhead if you are caught in the desert. During the day keep a smoky (有烟的) fire burning and at night, a bright, clean burning one. Spell out the word SOS on the ground as large as you can using whatever materials you can find. In this way, you have more chances to be saved.

根据短文内容，判断句子正(T)、误(F)。(5分)

71. The desert is very hot all the time.

72. Drink enough water before you start to travel in the desert.

73. It is a good way to travel at night and sleep in the daytime in the desert.

74. Spell out SOS on the ground so that planes passing overhead can find you easily.

75. The last paragraph tells us how to signal for help if you are caught in the desert.

Once my mother told me a story. In Africa, when an antelope (羚羊) wakes up every morning, the first thing it thinks about is, "I must be able to run faster than the fastest lion, or I will be killed." When a lion wakes from his dream. The first thing the lion thinks about is, "I must be able to catch the slowest antelope, or I will starve(饥饿) to death." So, almost at the same time, they get up and start running toward the rising sun.

This is life: full of chances and challenges.(76) _____. For students, it is just the same. If we do not study hard, sooner or later, we will fall behind the other students. (77) _____. Later, I knew an exam was a kind of competition. In competitions, there are always winners and losers. As I grew up, I got to know competitions well. (78) _____.

Each time I saw children playing games, and heard their laughter, I wished I were at that age again. However, I remembered my parents' words, "You must work very hard in order to have a good future." (79) _____.

I was still not sure what competitions really meant. One day, I was taking part in an English-speaking competition. When I went to the stage(舞台) I saw other students looking at me kindly. (80) _____. It is not as cruel as my teacher and parents told me. In fact, competition is the opposite: it is kind and necessary.

阅读短文，把 A~E 五个句子填入文中空缺处，使短文内容完整。（5 分）

- A. Whether you are an antelope or a lion, you must go ahead when the sun rises
 - B. I suddenly knew what competitions are
 - C. So I picked up my pen and began to study hard again
 - D. There must be competitions in one's life, so people can improve
 - E. At first, I did not know "exam" meant

Just up the road is a field with two horses in it. They look the same from a distance (距离). But if you take a closer look at the two horses, you will notice something very interesting.

One of the horses is blind. Instead of abandoning (抛弃) the poor horse, his owner has made a safe and comfortable barn (畜棚) for him to live in. If you stand nearby and listen, you will hear the sound of a bell. It comes from the smaller horse in the field. The bell is on the horse's halter (笼头). It helps the blind horse know where his friend is, so he can follow.

As you stand and watch these two friends, you'll see that the smaller horse with the bell is always checking on the blind horse, and that the blind horse will listen for the bell and then slowly walk to where the smaller horse is. When the smaller horse with the bell returns to the barn each time, he will stop to look back from time to time. He wants to make sure that the blind friend isn't too far behind to hear the bell.

In our life, we get help from others when we are in need. Sometimes we are the blind horse, being guided by the ringing bell of our companions (同伴). At other times, we are just the guide horse, helping others to find their way.

根据短文内容，回答下列问题。（10 分）

- 81. How many horses can you see in the field?
- 82. What's wrong with one of the horses?
- 83. Is the bell on the small horse's halter or on the big one's halter?
- 84. Why does the smaller horse stop to look back when he returns to the barn?
- 85. What can we learn from the last paragraph?

五、语言运用（共 10 分）

X. 短文填空（10 分）

阅读下面短文，在空白处填入一个恰当的单词，或用括号内所给单词的正确形式填空，使短文内容完整。

When I was small, my mum used to give the family something special for meals. She once put some burnt(烤焦的) bread in front of my dad. 86 my surprise, my dad just took his bread, smiled at my mum and then turned to ask me how my day at school was. I've forgotten 87 I told him that night, but I do remember watching him put some butter on that bread. He 88 (eat)it up as usual.

After dinner, my mum said 89 to my dad for burning the bread. And I will never forget what he said, "I like burnt bread, dear. It doesn't matter at all."

That night, I asked dad if he 90 (real) liked his bread burnt. He took me in the arms and said, "Your mum worked very hard all day. She's too 91. And you see - a bit of burnt food never hurt 92 (someone)!"

Now I know life is not perfect. Nobody is perfect, either. As for me, I often forget birthdays or some other special 93 (day). But I've learned something important over these years. What we really need is the understanding of each other, whether between a husband and 94, a parent and child or just between two friends. This is the key to a happy life.

So don't get angry 95 the bread gets burnt. Remember, burnt bread is not important at all. Be kind to those around you and a happier life will surely come closer to you.
