All around the world, people drink tea. But tea does not mean the same thing to everyone. For example, people in the following 4 countries have very different ideas about drinking tea.

In China, tea is always served when people get together. The Chinese drink it at any time of the day at home or in teahouses.

Tea is also important in Japan. The Japanese have a special way of serving tea called a tea ceremony. Everything must be done in a special way in the ceremony.

Another tea-drinking country is England. In England, the late afternoon is "teatime". Almost everyone has a cup of tea then, usually with milk and sugar.

In the United States people drink tea mostly for breakfast or after meals. Americans usually use tea bags to make their tea. Tea bags are faster and easier than making tea in teapots.

Teens and Inventions

Nowadays, there are many useful and cool inventions around us. Among these inventions, I use the Internet most often.

With the help of the Internet, I can get lots of the latest information. Also, I can keep in touch with my friends and family, and I can even buy goods from all over the world. More importantly, the Internet offers me a way to open up the eyes without going outside. For me, it not only helps me with my study, but also makes me relaxed.

Though we can get a lot from the Internet, we should spend the right amount of time instead of wasting too much time on it. What's more, to have a healthy life, we teenagers need to avoid getting bad information from certain websites.
