Dear editor(编辑),

My English teacher is very strict(严格的) with us. Some days ago, when we were in class, Tom asked me a question. But my English teacher thought we spoke in class. She asked us to stand at the back of the classroom for a few minutes. This made me upset. After that, I feel nervous(紧张的) in her class, so I don't like her class. However, I really want to learn English well. What should I do?

Yours,
 Mike

Dear Mike,

I am sorry you are having difficulty with your English class. Every teacher wants his or her students to study hard. So I think you should have a talk with your English teacher and tell her what you did with Tom that day. If she knows your worries, maybe she will help you with your English. And she will be happy to hear you want to learn English well. Of course, you should know that what your teacher did was good for you. When you are not trying as hard as you can, she has to stop it and try to help you. Wish you have a better life!

Yours,
 Editor

play a big role in our lives these days. What can they do? They can do many different kinds of work. They can do the same work over and over again and they never feel tired or bored. Sometimes they do some dangerous and difficult work such as exploring (探索) outer space. In the future, fewer people will do such dangerous and simple jobs.

Robots don't have the same brains(大脑) as humans, but they can do the same things as we do. Many robots can also move like people, but they don't have any senses (感知) and it will be very difficult to make them really think like a human. Then how do they work? Well, they have computers to control(控制) their bodies.

Robots are becoming smarter and smarter day by day. In the future, they will be just like the ones in movies. Maybe they will be able to walk and speak like humans in 25 to 50 years. However, will they become smarter than us? The answer is "No.". Because we always have new ideas, but they don't.

We never know what will happen in the future! But whatever robots will be like in the future, I think they will only be our servants. So we needn't worry about the future.

Thanksgiving Day was near. In a primary school, a teacher asked her students to draw a picture of the festival.

Many people would celebrate the festival with turkey and other traditional things. So most of the students drew some traditional things. But Peter just drew an empty(空的) hand. His picture was so different.

Paul, Peter's classmate, thought it could be the hand of a farmer, because farmers could feed (喂养) turkeys. Another classmate guessed it might be the hand of a police officer, because the police could help people. Finally, the teacher asked Peter whose hand it was.

The little(小的) boy answered, "It's yours, teacher." The teacher recalled (回忆) the moments (时刻) that happened before. She often said, "Take my hand, Peter, we'll go outside", "Let me show you how to hold (拿) your pencil" or "Let's do this together". Peter was thankful for his teacher's hand. The teacher was touched. Peter might not always say thanks. But if someone helped him, he would remember him.
