Ⅷ. 阅读理解(共 15 小题,每小题 2 分,计 30 分)

A

Shopping on the Internet is becoming more and more popular. Why do people use the Internet to shop? Some people say it is more convenient. They don't have to leave their homes to order something; they can shop for anything they want at any time; they can find things for sale that they can't find in the stores near their homes. Still other people say they can find better products on the Internet.

If you want to buy something on the Internet, you need a credit (信用) card. You have to type your credit card number and information on the website and send them to the store over the Internet. You have to be sure that the store will not use your information in the wrong way. You don't want someone to get your credit card number, so be careful with it, because people sometimes steal(窃取) credit card numbers from stores.

The Internet is also a good place to go window-shopping. Window-shopping is when you look at the things for sale in a store, but don't plan to buy anything. In window-shopping you can see what kinds of things you are able to get and how much they cost. Some stores like Ross Stores have a website for information about their stores, but not for shopping. Some stores have a website for information about their stores, and you can shop online there, such as Office Depot, Payless Shoe Source, Safeway. Some stores like Amazon. com are only for online shopping.

- ()51. Some people use the Internet to shop because _____.
A. they can sleep all day long
B. they want to leave their homes
C. they want to play with their friends
D. they can get things with less money
- ()52. If you want to shop on the Internet, you need _____.
A. an ID card B. a credit card
C. an IC card D. a room card
- ()53. Which is the best title for this passage?
A. Shopping on the Internet
B. Internet
C. Information about Shopping
D. Shopping

IX. 任务型阅读(共5小题,每小题2分,计10分)

What do you want to be when you grow up? People like to ask their children the same question. Jake Schelenschiager from the US had different answers to the question when he was a little boy. However, he had his final answer at the age of 12. After seeing his father doing weightlifting (举重), he had a big dream—he wanted to be the strongest kid in the world. Jake told us “Like father, like son”. He also said, “My father is super strong, so I want to be as strong as my dad.”

To make his dream come true, Jake trained very hard. When his friends were playing games, he spent his time on weightlifting. After two years of hard work, the boy was able to lift more than twice his own weight. Now he trains every day and hopes to lift more weights.

Jake has talked about his love of weightlifting and his dream to many people. However, not everyone is excited about it. Some people are worried that too much training may be bad for the growing of the boy's body. Jake's parents say they don't worry about their son's health because he gets regular check-ups (体格检查) and good training.

66 题完成句子; 67、68 题简略回答问题; 69 题找出并写下第二段的主题句; 70 题将文中画线句子翻译成汉语。

 Good evening everyone,
 First of all, thank you for giving me a chance to make a speech about the Olympic Games. As we all know, every four years athletes from all over the world take part in the Olympic Games. The Olympic motto is “Faster, Higher, and Stronger”. It means that every athlete should try to run faster, jump higher, and throw further.
 In 2005, the slogan for the Beijing Olympic Games came out, that was, “One world, One dream”. And I think it is a reflection of the wisdom of hundreds of thousands of Chinese people.
 Thank you for listening and have a good night.
