Recently, No.9 Middle School has done a survey on the speaking abilities of students in Grade Seven. They asked 100 students, a quarter of all the seventh graders. Here is the result.

From the survey, we can see that most students are aware (知道的) of the importance of spoken English and want to practice. The school should create more chances for them, such as the English speech competition, the English singing competition and so on. Also, students can create chances by themselves, like taking part in the English corner, making some foreign friends online ...

Listening, speaking, reading and writing are four basic skills of English. We shouldn't only learn it. We should also use it and communicate with it. So practice speaking now!

In many British schools, the pupils usually wear their school uniforms to go to school on weekdays. However, recently the students at LVS Ascot Junior School in England wore something quite different. What they wore was what people wear when they go to bed-pyjamas(睡衣). They did this not only for fun, but for a local charity called Christopher's Smile.

Christopher's Smile was set up by Karen & Kevin Capel whose only son Christopher died of cancer at a young age. They hope their charity will help to pay for more research into children's cancers. Since then, the charity has raised a lot of money and gotten more and more volunteers. Every year, thousands of people take part in different activities such as charity walk or run to show their support for Christopher's Smile.

The students of Grade 6 at LVS Ascot Junior School also wanted to do something for the sick children. They organized the event "Pyjama Day" to support Christopher's Smile. "We wanted to raise money for our charity in a way that the whole school could join in, so each pupil paid £1 to wear his or her pyjamas to school on Pyjama Day," said the young organizers. Both the students and their teachers took part in the event with great interest. Together they not only raised some money, but also had a good time.
