You must think a computer is the best thing in the world, right? You must think it works at a super speed and can do everything. Well, it's not! In fact, the brain is much more powerful than any super computer! Think about when a glass is just about to fall off the table. Your brain controls everything that you need to do to save that glass from falling. First your eyes check out what's going on, then tell your brain, and your brain decides how quickly you need to react (反应), and then your muscles (肌肉) go into action. That is just from your brain. No computer could ever come close to that!

The brain weighs just 3 pounds, but it controls everything you do from thinking, learning, feeling even to breathing and your heart beating. Even though the brain is just 2% of your body weight, it uses around 20% of all your energy in your body. That is a lot for such a small organ (器官). There are about 100 billion tiny, tiny little cells (细胞) in your brain. There are so many that it would take you over 3,000 years to count them all!

Your brain stops growing when you're 18, but it actually keeps on developing and learning new things. So your parents are really super smart! You won't be able to fool them! Believe it or not, your brain NEVER stops working. Even during sleeping, the brain works for long-term memory establishment (建立). It is realized that the brain is the second organ in the body as the heart that never stops during human lives.

So everyone should be proud of such a gift of nature.

44. What does the writer want to tell us in Paragraph 1?

- A. Eyes and muscles react quickly.

- C. The brain is more powerful than any computer.

- C. The brain uses the most of our body energy.

- A. 1kg.
- B. 2kg.
- C. 3kg.

47. Which word can best describe the brain according to the passage?

- A. Magic.
- B. Developing.
- C. Quickly.

Among all the people who were presented with Touching China Award this year, Lu Hong left a deep impression on me.

Lu Hong became disabled after a fever when he was a little boy. However, he didn't give up and kept learning. Unluckily, after he graduated, he failed to get the opportunity to work because of his disability. For living, he repaired bikes, sold boiled water, and finally succeeded in running an album (相册) factory, in which 21 disabled people were offered a chance to make money and realize their own value. He said that he understood how hard it was for the disabled to get a job.

In a word, being disabled exactly brings Lu Hong trouble and unhappiness, but Lu shows the power of persistence (坚持) and the warmth of kindness. Just as a saying goes, "What doesn't kill you makes you stronger." So let's learn from him and make a contribution to our society.

56. What happened to Lu Hong when he was a little boy?
