March 25 is called the National Day of Education on the Safety of Elementary and Middle School Students（NDESEMSS 全国中小学生安全教育日）. The theme of the day this year is to give students more knowledge about safety and make sure that their lives are safe.

A survey done by the China Youth and Children Research Center showed that school accidents kill more elementary and middle school students than anything else. The main accidents come from stampedes（踩踏）, earthquakes, fires and sports injuries（伤害）.

What can we do to keep ourselves safe? Staying calm（镇静）is the first and most important rule when facing accidents. But different incidents have different self-protection advice.

A stampede is possible anywhere. The larger a human crowd gets, the more likely stampedes become. When students around you begin to push, stand still and try to hold onto something, or stay in a corner until the crowd leaves. If you fall down in a moving crowd, cover your head with both hands.

Earthquakes are common natural disasters(灾害). When you feel the ground shake, drop down, take cover under a desk and hold on. You should stay indoors until the shaking stops. If you are outdoors, don’t stay near buildings, trees or power lines.

When there’s a fire, follow the teachers’ instructions, leave the classroom quickly and use a piece of wet cloth to cover your mouth and nose so that you don’t breathe in smoke.

31. The theme of NDESEMSS this year is to give students more knowledge about _____.
A. how to stay safe in a crowd
B. how to stay safe in a fire
C. how to stay safe in an earthquake
D. how to stay safe in a stampede

- A. accidents and make them run away

B. health and make sure they eat healthily
- C. science and make their study better

D. safety and make sure they are safe
32. When accidents happen, you should first_____according to this passage.
- A. run away

B. stand there

C. keep calm

D. cry loudly
33. According to this passage, we can learn that_____.
- A. car accidents kill the most elementary and middle school students of all accidents

B. when there’s a fire, you should use wet cloth to cover your mouth and nose

C. if you fall down in a moving crowd, you can do nothing but wait there

D. when an earthquake happens, you should stay near buildings or trees
34. The underlined word “incidents” means_____in the passage.
- A. accidents

B. communications

C. vacations

D. developments
35. What’s the best title for this passage?
- A. Be afraid of accidents

五、读写综合（本大题为 A、B 两部分，共 25 分）

A.回答问题。（本题共 5 小题，每小题 2 分，共 10 分）

To Borrow Arrows（箭） with Thatched Boats

One day, Zhou Yu ordered Zhuge Liang to make 100,000 arrows in ten days. Zhou Yu thought it was impossible, but Zhuge Liang said, "Give me three days." Then he asked Lu Su to lend him 20 boats, and the soldiers put some scarecrows（稻草人） in line on the boats. He reminded Lu Su not to tell Zhou Yu what was happening.

When Lu Su came again to see Zhuge Liang, he found nothing unusual. Nothing happened on the second day, either. In the early morning of the third day, Zhuge Liang invited Lu Su for a boat ride. The 20 boats were tied together with strong ropes. Zhuge's boat went towards the camp of Cao Cao. The surface of the river was covered with thick mist（雾）all over. People could hardly see each other on the river. When Zhuge's boat got close to the Cao camp before dawn, Zhuge Liang ordered his soldiers to shout and beat drums heavily to pretend（假装） an attack（袭击）. But Zhuge and Lu Su only sat inside one boat drinking wine to enjoy themselves.

As soon as the Cao camp heard the shouting and drum beating, they became afraid. They couldn’t see anyone on the river so they had to order 3,000 soldiers to shoot arrows to stop the unexpected attack. The front of the scarecrows was quickly full of arrows. After a while, Zhuge Liang had his boat turned around to get the other side of the scarecrows to face the Cao camp. When both sides were full of arrows, the day broke. Zhuge Liang ordered his soldiers to return. The soldiers shouted in excitement, "Thank you, Cao Cao, for your arrows. "After they got back to their camp, they collected more than 100,000 arrows in total from the scarecrows.

- 51.How many days did Zhuge Liang need to make 100,000 arrows?
- 52.Who lent the boats to Zhuge Liang?
- 53.What did Zhuge and Lu Su do when the soldiers began to shout and beat drums?
- 54.Why did the soldiers in the Cao camp shoot arrows?

- 55.How did the soldiers feel when they came back?
