作文

As we all know, English is the most widely used language in the world, so learning English can help us communicate with foreign friends and learn more about the world.

Every morning, I read English loudly for half an hour. Talking to others in English can help increase my confidence. I take notes carefully in English classes. After school, I listen to English songs to improve my listening skills. I also join an English club. There I can practice my spoken English.

I don't think it hard to learn English. Practice makes perfect. As long as we keep practicing and never give up, we can learn it well.
