Dear, Dave!

I am happy to say that I made a new friend on WeChat a month ago. Her name is Liu Hui. She is a tall girl with curly hair and two big eyes. She is similar to me in some ways. First, we are both talented in music. Second, both of us like caring for others and we are both good listeners. But there are some differences between us. She often wears cooler clothes than me. At school, she is not as hardworking as I am, but she is more popular than me because she is funnier.

I think friends should not always be the same, but we should be ready to help each other when someone is in trouble.

Yours
Li Hui
